Word cross free 2020 new word connection

Word Connect is another game that word puzzle lovers certainly go gaga for. It was developed by Word Connect Inc. where you will need to create words by pulling and linking one letter to another. Know your words! You need to guess that at the beginning of the game they are really simple. They will greet you with 3 letters of words that have 2-3 possible word combinations. All you have to do is scroll your finger or stylus on the screen and connect the letters accordingly. The blank cells above will be filled out if you have guessed the words correctly. It will be very easy to breeze past the first few levels of the game, although some words can get tricky. Simple words can drag you and are easy to fly over our heads with how common they are. For example, you need to identify words that are made of 2 letters, such as Do and Go. At some point in the game, you can get stuck. There's no need to panic if you have a chance at unknown words. If you need help, Word Connect has tips for you. It will give you a letter correctly installed in the cell and from there, you will have to guess the rest. Tips, however, cost coins that can be earned by clearing the level. I'm sure that won't be a problem because you can earn enough during the easy rounds of the game. Your coins will only run out quickly if you use tips frequently, so think carefully before you decide to get help. Have fun with the letters! All there are other game modes that you can play in addition to guessing and filling in blank cells. Word Connect also has crossword mode and daily challenges where you can receive a bonus. Sometimes everyday challenges can leave an unforgettable mark on you because of how hard or challenging they are. If you ever like to go back to previous challenges, you can do so. You can also select and customize the theme of the game, as well as with up to 15 themes available. The game is still simple and easy to understand despite changes in its appearance, so you don't have to worry about being distracted from thoughts while playing. Good exercise on the brain! These are words we often forget because we don't use them regularly, especially if they sound too complicated to use in casual conversation. Word Connect will at least help you remember words and learn those you didn't know. It's a very good game that's both in-person and fun. Educational! Easy to understand instructions! Challenging! Non-intrusive music! Repetitive gameplay! No unique concept! Small bonus points! Few game modes! This app is only available in the App Store for iPhone and iPad. Good game, but I just had to delete and reload because it stopped working and now I'm back to the lower level and without the chance to scramble the letters to get a better look at the word. I do not agree that some words are legitimate - the nose is not in any English dictionary that I can find), and on the contrary, I find legitimate words such as worn rejected. I don't like using abbreviations like scathing and alt either. I like how the level of difficulty increases - not too fast or slow. A few months later, I still find words like dill, sumpa and divided are not acceptable. How are those not words? And the repeated use of ala is just stupid. No one uses that word in English. At higher levels, I think that words that were once not acceptable as lice are now acceptable – or perhaps the game has changed. It still seems to me that certain words (lenses) are not accepted, and that strange words - the Malay word susu, which few English speakers know - appear. They started allowing plurals, but only sometimes, which is confusing. And continue to have words (I can't remember any currently) that have the NO dictionary definition I can find. The game keeps me busy when I need a distraction. However, it needs some bugs to be worked out and the changes that would be made if my game were to change. It's very annoying when you've tried a word that's not correct many times, but when you decide again, because your brain is dead and you're out of options... It's a word that works. That's a mistake or a mistake I was thinking about. As regards change: either change the daily challenge where it is stated that you can or will win a big bonus. It's small and limited. Why indicate on the daily bonus a point system for the length of each word? You don't get the points listed for these words, you only get 10/20 points. This is disappointing and misleading. Why aim for the best points when the smaller one is the same? Now, I understand that this game is for ages 4 and up so review that I read the complaint about it that it is not demanding enough, just find something else and go on. Not everyone will be on the same level. However, I have played long enough that the game has really asked if I am ready for more challenging puzzles. I'm an intelligent person who now has trouble losing words like me. I don't even remember what to say when I try to talk about the couch, so I'm going to explain what I'm talking about until my brain finds the word couch. (just example) so this new chapter is great and hopefully it helps me. I've been playing this game every day for over a year. The first time I gave him 5 stars, it was great at first! Now the developers have changed it in a not good way. A year ago you had things like a daily bonus that gave you 80 to 999 points or a hint of coins. Today, the daily challenge is less than 200 coins. The cost of buying extra coins has become ridiculous. I stopped buying them a long time ago. Then, the screen point scale for word-solving and everyday challenges has never been shown. Now, no matter how big or heavy a word you can see, you will receive only 40 points The words have become so funny and inaudible that even the internal dictionary applications can't find them. Word puzzle choices and daily selections simply started repeating again from those a year ago in the beginning. For example, a word that was approved in the same puzzle last week is not allowed on the same puzzle selection of words this week. I would pay for new levels, new choices or word upgrades, but I don't want to pay for the challenge of coins, I wouldn't pay the developer to give up putting ads on the product. You had the best word game on the market. What happened? Developer, ZenLife Games Pte. Ltd., it is stated that in-app privacy practices may include data handling as described below.
